

Tremor makes a stop at 'Bring Your Child to Work Day' event

The Rancho Cucamonga Quakes' "Tremor" made a stop at National Community Renaissance's "Bring Your Child to Work Day."

The event was held April 26 at the company's corporate headquarters in Rancho Cucamonga.

Children ages 4 to 13 participated in hands-on workshops, tours and demonstrations to explore the wide range of development aspects performed at the company, as well as critical services and resources needed to support it, as well as have a sit-down lunch with Tremor, himself.

Through this event, National CORE anticipates providing kids with an understanding of the vital services to that their parents provide in support of the National Community Renaissance mission, and to encourage future careers in development, National CORE believes the program will also help the children see connections between schoolwork and working in the real world and broaden their thinking about their goals and aspirations in reference to work.
